EARNING POWER

How to Increase Your Husband's Income at Home.

EIGHT WAYS WOMEN TRIED.

What Actual Women Have Achieved by Using Their Knowledge of How to Do Some One Thing Better Than Anybody Else.

Until the high cost of living probem is solved one must keep on living! Even by most clever planning a family of four cannot be supported adequately on $702 a year. Thousands of wives are glorifying their "standing" instead of hurting it by helping their husbands increase their incomes. Below are eight actually tried and successful plans.

A California woman sent cards stating she would make buttonholes at 2 cents each. Hurried and affluent mothers responded at once. Her work was neat. She made two average buttonholes in ten minutes-24 cents an hour $1.20 a day for the five hours a day she could spare. An Illinois wife had a large back She specialized in cucumbers. yard. She, with her two little boys, kept the vines in fine condition. Summer cucumbers for salad, smaller fall ones for pickles, were her stock. What she did not sell she put up in glass jars attractively. These sold readily for 30 cents per quart. She netted an average of $25 per month. A California wife made round, heart shaped and animal spiced and sugar cookies, tied neatly in wax paper, a dozen to package, 15 cents a dozen. She began with a small oven on her gas stove and in two years needed and bought a "baker size" range. She does all her work of mornings and clears $40 to $60 per month.

Why not rabbit raising? An Iowa wife in a small town found this fine pay. Feed only alfalfa dry and rolled barley. With several bucks and 150 does $75 to $100 per month has been cleared by her. Small capital needed, as a very few will soon "start business" on a paying basis. A Connecticut wife advertised herself as a skilled fruit canner. Her pay was 40 cents an hour or one-fourth of fruit canned. The share plan gave ber enough fruit for her family of five, and often she had "extras" to sell for spe-cial occasions. Result, plenty of good fruit free and $15 to $25 per month cash.

A little wife in New Jersey "adores" dainty laundry work. She makes a specialty of laundering beautiful unlerwear, bables' and children's dresses chiffon and crepe de chine waists. Her "standing" is of the best. Her winter work averaged $15 to $30. In summer

The husband of a California woman made her a fine loom. She devoted her spare time to learning how to weave and how to create special designs. Now, after two years, she turns off skilled work and clears $100 or more a month. Her husband's salary is $75.

Doll dressing, bean bags made in cute animal shapes, baby rompers and creep ers and gingham and hand embroidered sunbounets for infants fill in the spare moments of a clever New York roman most delightfully. Trade among a few intimate friends at first, but so well done as to be quickly advertised. Income per month always $30 to $40. Christmas season brought $50 a month Marriage Permits. year-old daughter assistant.

In every woman lies the desire to do some one thing. If we stick to it patiently through the first slow moments we will find the results astonishing for effort expended and ourselves much happier, because we are lifting our hus bands' burdens and giving something to life out of our real best selves .-Pictorial Review.

CATLETTSBURG NEWS

Luncheon Honoring Brides Elect. A bridge luncheon of numeral interest was given at the home of Judge and Mrs. W. H. Flanery, of Catletta-burg last afternoon and the invitations sent out were ratherdelusive, as they said (Merle) Flanery at home to meet Miss Wellman Miss Wellman is a bride-elect and a very prominent young woman. The spacious Flanery home was artistically decorated in French baskets, vases and jardeniers, containing roses and larkspur which made a very attractive arrangement. Miss Flanery received in a corn colored Georgette crepe and looked exceeding-ly attractive. It will be recalled Miss Merie Fianery, the oldest daughter's engagement was recently announced to Atty. D. M. Howerton, whose wedding will occur some time in the fail.

Tables were scattered conveniently through the downstairs of this home and the guests numbering about forty enjoyed the fascinating game and showered many greeting on Miss Wellman, the bride-elect and the honor guest who looked charming in a gold Georgette crepe and after they had en-joyed cards for a while the tables were set for luncheon and it is seldom one es things so beautifully and artistically arranged. It was here at the serving of the luncheon that the surprise was sprung. At each plate was a bud rose vase containing a white rose bud and fied to the vase was a card on which was inscribed the names of Miss Dawn Flanery and H. Leslie Parker. It was indeed a merry crowd when they realized that they had with them on this occasion three charming and beautiful young women who were to be fall brides. Miss Dawn Flanery's wedding will be a culmination of a very romantic courtship as she met this young man when visiting a college friend, Miss Edness Kimble, of Casper, Wyoming, Miss Kimble and Miss Flanery being room mates at the Nebraska. University, where this young lady had been for the past year. Mr. Parker is of Colorado Springs with an office at Parkertown, Wyoming, Parkertown, a new oil town, being named for him, and though he is but twenty-eight years old, he is regarded as one of the fore-most expert petroleum geologists of the United States and it was through his knowledge of petroleum geology that the Big Muddy oil fields of Wyom-ing have recently been developed. Mr. Parker graduated from the McGill University and has on a number of oc sions visited the Flanery home at Cat-lettsburg and only the past week was guest there but is now in New York

This charming young lady who is soon to become the bride of Mr. Park-er, is tall and queenly and of the brunette type, and belongs to one of Ken-tucky's most distinguished and brilliant families. These who have met Mr Parker speak of him in the highest terms as a gentleman of culture and refinement and worthy of this charming young woman who is soon to be his bride. Many and numerous will be the showers and entertainments honoring the coming brides and Catlettsburg will be gay for the season as many have planned entertainments of various
